LORD AND LADY WILLINGDON VISIT STRATHMORE

All Strathmore was awake and alert earlier than usual Sunday morning last, on the occasion of the visit of the Vice Royal, Lord Willingdon, Governor-General of Canada, and Lady Willingdon.

Promptly on scheduled time, 9.30 a.m., the train bringing the Royal car, drew up at the station platform. Lieutenant Dunn had his troop of Boy Scouts drawn up in line as their Excellencies stepped from the car. They were most gracious and kindly with all, and at once ingratiated themselves into the hearts of the people.

Waiting to receive them were Mr. Geo. Jones, Supt. of the C.P.R. Farm at Strathmore; Mayor A. D. Shrimpton, representing the town; Rev. Walter and Mrs. Patrick, representing the Canadian Legion; Mr. Stockton Supt. of I. D. Mr. Scott Dawson, of Natural Resources, and Mr. Walker, of Calgary.

Lord Willingdon shook hands with each of the Boy Scouts. Their Excellencies walked to the station with all, after which they, with their "Butler" stepped into the auto, and drove to the C.P.R. Supply Park.

Here the Hostess, the largest, most modern hotel in Canada, were viewed and highly praised by His Excellency. They were treated to a sample of cream, Lady Willingdon declaring it was the very best cream she had had in Canada.

Incidentally, some of the best chickens were plucked, to be sent abroad and served for luncheon.

The men of the party were shown through the commodious and attractive home of the superintendent.

They were driven through the I. D. headquarters, and were delighted with the very picturesque surroundings.

This completed the official part of the C.P.R. program.

Their Excellencies and party were next driven to the Memorial Hall, afterwards they attended Divine Service in St. Michael's and St. Joseph Church. The service conducted by Rev. Walter was very beautiful and well conducted, and the most tenderly of the choir, was of its usual high standard.

Lord and Lady Willingdon will visit the Edmonton Exhibition this week, from whence they will go on a trip to the Peace River country.

Lord Willingdon showed his interest in those who had served by requesting that arrangements be made to have him met as many ex-servicemen during his visit. Although the police was short there was a good turnout to greet their Excellencies at the Memorial Hall. On inspecting the building Lord and Lady Willingdon expressed their great appreciation of the Memorial, shook hands and spoke to every member of the Legion. When their questions displaying the pleasure felt at being able to get in personal touch with so many. Addressing the committee of the Canadian Legion, Lord Willingdon said that he had been prevented from taking part in the Great War, but he had served his country in the same way, in another part of the Empire, at that period.

During his tour it had given him pleasure not only to meet so many ex-servicemen from the old land, but also a great number of the Canadians who had answered the call, and while he felt the experience they had undergone was unlikely to occur again, he was sure should the need arise, they would again be found ready and willing.

The visit was concluded most fittingly by the playing of a poppy song on the Memorial Stone by His Excellency.

The Legion are the proud possessors of two excellent staid pictures of the distinguished visitors, present.

ed on their departure. These will be hung in the Memorial Hall and will be a most pleasant reminder of the honour conferred.

When Her Ladyship referred to the Rev. T. B. Winter as to whether he would be pronounced "skedule" or "shedule", he was by no means surprised, for he replied the word was like "skedchen", so one knew what way to pronounce it.

Jimmie Gunn looked more than glad that when Lady Willingdon came with him said that the floor was so good she would like to dance on it.

TOWN COUNCIL HELD MEETING

A regular meeting of the Council was held on Tuesday night, Mayor Shrimpton presiding. Councilors all present except G. QUIRIN who was absent from town.

Minutes of last meeting were read and confirmed. Letter from Supervisor Ewing in regard to co-operating in eradicating the weed menace, was read.

No word has been yet received from the P.R. or the Provincial Government regarding the extension of Second Street to the town limits, to take the place of Bailey Boulevard.

Councillor John Taylor was appointed Deputy Mayor for August, September and October.

A discussion took place regarding the cemetery grounds, and the Mayor and Councillors Lindon, Saunders and Quira were appointed a committee to report at the next meeting.

STRATHMORE HOLDS ANOTHER SUCCESSFUL STAMPEDE WEDNESDAY

Strathmore's Ninth Stampede and Race was held on Wednesday, July 18, and had an attendance of approximately 1500, which was slightly more than last year. It was the first stampede which has been held which was not under the auspices of the Canadian Legion for the purpose of liquidating the debt upon the Memorial Hall. This statement does not imply that the stampede did not have the support of the Canadian Legion members, which it assuredly did, and the old time campaigners such as Jim Gunn, W. S. Patterson and Hector McGreor, were much in evidence. Nevertheless, it was more difficult for President T. E. Wright to create the necessary enthusiasm this year to carry on the project with a bang. However, in Manager Leslie West and Assistant Managers Van West and F. A. Cott, the very excellent program was presented to the spectators as a whole has in Western Canada.

The horses, with one or two exceptions, setled like professionals, while the steers, owing to size, were more difficult to ride, thus giving the public an exhibition that will be hard to duplicate.

Manager Leslie West had been badly (badly for Leslie) but he had secured a display lot of stock, and that it would take the best riders in the country to make good, which prediction was fully fulfilled.

The events were pulled off in the early part of the contest with splendid speed, but unfortunately, after the semi-finals, there was what amounted to an unnecessary delay, which could not be avoided owing to the judges finding it difficult in arriving at a decision owing to the closeness of the scores of the contestants.

The weather condition for the day was almost perfect, when F. A. Cott left the parade at noon, followed by the Elks band. The judges, Dr. Glen, Ex-mayor Butler and R. H. Ader, son, all old timers of Strathmore, awarded the parade prizes as follows: Best foal, I.O.B.E.; Best decorated car, Neils White; Best saddle horse, special prize, donated by A. Layzell, Archie McLean; Best dressed Indian, Crowhorse; Best dressed Indian, Donald McMaster; Best dressed cowboy, Miss Woods; Best dressed cowboy, Jack Miller; Best chuckwagon, Johnny Van West.

Following the parade there was a general rush to get lunch and then away to the stampede grounds, and this was where one good citizen, as Ernie Whitlock, and his able staff, all most efficient work in "rounding up" the silver dollars under most difficult circumstances, as a lot of them in attendance have been attending these stampedes for several months, and are most difficult to "round".

It is needless to say that if Strathmore is to continue in the sporting world arrangements must be made for suitable grounds, where proper receipts can be collected without having to argue about it. Then spectators with horses and automobiles, and the endless volunteer work that falls upon a few people in erecting temporary chutes, fence building and road making each year, will cease.

This particular phase of the work has gradually developed a lot of enthusiasm, which is so much needed to put over a sports day of any nature.

STRATHMORE PROBUS CLUB DOING SPLENDID WORK

Conceived by accident, and its birth greeted with scepticism and ridicule of some quarters, the Strathmore Probuc Club, after an existence of barely six months, has every reason for priding itself in its achievements. Its coming into existence was very typical. After our town had been snow bound for over two months, and the streets were sitting on business in general and on traffic accommodation in particular, ways and means were sought by the towns people to obviate with the conditions, and a meeting was called with the result that a Good Roads Association was formed under the name of Strathmore Probuc Club.

Although the initial notion of the association was that the enforcement of wide bank slides would solve the problem of open winter roads, it was soon realized that more stringent measures would have to be taken to cope with the snow removal problem, and the executive of the club got in touch with the Calgary Probuc Club and the Alberta Motor Association, with the result that the latter association pledged its willingness to take charge of keeping the Calgary highway open for traffic during the winter of 1928-29 with the funds that were to be provided by the interested people of Calgary and of the neighbouring towns.

The business people of Strathmore set a splendid example of civic spirit by subscribing generously for that purpose. In a very short time $150.00 was pledged by them as Strathmore's share for keeping the Calgary highway open, while another $50.00 was pledged for the purpose of opening up the local roads leading into Strathmore. None of the private towns people or farmers have been approached yet for contributions to the two road funds, but it is to be hoped that their response in due time will be just as generous as that of the Strathmore business people has been.

From the time of its inception, the Strathmore Probuc Club has drawn the friendly and benevolent attention of two spirited bodies in Alberta, The Calgary Probuc Club, whose objects of association to which, by the way, the Strathmore Probuc Club has fully subscribed, and:

- (a) To promote good fellowship among the members and deepen their interest in business ethics and ideals.
- (b) To assist in the betterment of general business conditions.
- (c) To encourage the development of local industries.
- (d) To aid in giving publicity to the business opportunities and advantages open to settlers in Alberta.
- (e) To encourage a better understanding between the rural and urban sections of the community; has taken a very friendly interest in the doing of good by the Strathmore members, and have been invited to attend their weekly luncheons and meetings at the Fallmer every Monday noon. Their president and many of their members came out to meet us last night; their executive has been responsible for getting us in touch with the Alberta Motor Association to help us solve our winter roads problem, and, last but not least, in order to encourage a better understanding between the rural and urban sections of the community, they are coming out in a motor car on July 25th to give us Strathmore boys back the time of our lives.

On the other hand, the Alberta Motor Association is taking a vivid interest in Strathmore's endeavor to keep the roads open in winter time. They realize quite well that if Strathmore can winter successfully in keeping their roads open, it is going to be the start of a country-wide action to follow in the same lines. Hence their readiness to assist the Strathmore Probuc Club in this project for all they are worth.

One matter of intensive interest has sprung up lately in the matter of getting the Calgary highway directly through town. On the suggestion of a prominent Strathmore man, the Alberta Motor Association, through its president, has taken up the matter of getting the highway diverted right from the business grounds, directly into Strathmore main street in order to avoid the hopeless condition of Bailey boulevard. In doing so, the A.M.A. is considering the interest of the traveling public, and indirectly opens up prospects of tremendous import to the town of Strathmore.

To come to a conclusion, we would appeal to every Strathmore man, whether he is from the town or he has come so already, and stand behind for whatever is to the advantage of the town and district. We also advise every car owner to consider the membership in the Alberta Motor Association. The A.M.A. works quite selflessly for the betterment of the roads and for the comfort of the traveling public, and they are doing it in perfect harmony with our provincial government.

And especially, we want to remind you that the winter is coming nearer, and that in order to avoid the miserable road conditions of last winter, we have to get busy in time. Pledge your generous support, if you have done so yet. No money will be spent foolishly, and all the untapped money will be returned in proportion of the subscription, but be sure that there is plenty available in order to meet any emergency; by doing so you will serve your town, you will serve your community, but best of all, you will serve your own self.

Crop Report

CANADIAN PACIFIC ALBERTA CROP REPORT FAVORABLE

Warm sunshine brought crops along in Alberta. Growth of grain is stronger and more uniform for this time of year than probably at any similar period, and indications point to another big crop, all grains are from ten days to two weeks ahead of last year. Early wheat is heading out, and some barley will be cut within next few days. Portions of crops in southern Alberta has been damaged by hail. But it is comparatively small. The planting of sugar beets has been interrupted by wet condition of soil, but the crop is good and promises well. Cattle are thriving and with an abundance of grass should move early this fall.

FIELD MARSHAL FOCH HAD UNIQUE EXPERIENCE

CASSIUS, Department of Nord, France—Marshal Ferdinand Foch set himself immortalized in bronze, against his own wishes, when a statue of the Allied Generalissimo was unveiled, and he was able to see himself as posterity will see him.

This was an experience which neither Caesar nor Napoleon knew. It came to the man who is credited with winning the Great War when an equestrian statue, with himself in the saddle, was unveiled at the very spot where once the destinies of the modern world were in his keeping. It was to this place that Foch came to turn back the foe's march toward the Channel in 1918; it was here that he came again in 1918 to command the last powerful push of all the allied armies, driving the beaten enemy off the soil of France.

A group of diplomats and statesmen, and a multitude of common folk who fought under Marshal Foch, surrounded him and his statue, and heard his name glorified by one orator after another.

Premier Poincaré, who has the reputation of being bold and precise—"a mental machine"—looked Foch in the eye, and told him of his greatness, his place in history, with a warmth of words and a passionate admiration he had never before known to use in public.

SPORT NOTES

WINNING THE DIAMOND SCULLS

HENLEY-ON-THAMES — Canada won the Diamond Sculls, the coveted emblem of world amateur supremacy in singles rowing, goes overseas well-won. With them goes the unbelieved admiration of all Englishmen for the stout-armed, stout-hearted Toronto lad who won them.

In the supreme test of his sculling career, 22-year-old Joe Wright did what no Canadian aspirant has been able to do since 1904. Opportunity knocking a second time at his door, found itself seized upon like a rag by a bull pup. There was no escape this time.

Lee Rows Gamely

Before the unbeatable thrust of the Toronto youth, Lee, the defender—villain, ever struggling to the whip-hand, and of the stuff true champions are made—saw, from out his fagged, sweating eyes, the Canadian ahead a length ahead of him at the finish line; felt the Sculls slip, glimmering from his broken clutch, and bowed, gamely, yet inevitably, to a verdict that indubitably would have been written here a year ago but for a coiling pantpore which struck at Wright's ear like a poison snake and lost for the latter then what he now has gained.

Joe Wright went over the finish line dated, numerous, practically all of the cheering of 100,000 Henleyites, and of the "Maple Leaf Forever," which the scarlet-coated little band in the enclosure pumped in tribute from its glinting brass to the blue sky and the whispering breeze.

A Year Ago

One year ago he bumbled in his shell crying, beaten by the flick of misfortune, when a flick of an ear would have pulled him over. This time his face was strained—but it was the strain of determination, of a will-to-win-to come back—which gave him mastery at the "shell" and which he never for one moment relinquished as he stroked-stroke-stroke his course along the historic Henley water between walls of perspiring pop-eyed humanity that had paid "high and handsome" to be in at the finish. Victory? Superstition? Indisputable. But in the great hour of victory, Wright did not forget himself, his breeding, his duty as the sportsman he has proved himself to be.

"Games Men That Ever Lived," "Gosh," he said, when he could regulate his breathing, and the lump in his throat had vanished, "don't say you boys tell me that Lee can't row. Who stated that crazy 'art' theory? Did you see him sprint? He's the gamest man that ever lived. He certainly made me sit up."

In at the thrilling finish was perhaps the most gallantly doped and metropolitan crowd a Diamond Sculls has ever seen. Wright, as the crowd saw it all and revelled in it. "Our Mr. Baldwin" chased the competitors as fast as the little umpire's boat, in which he spread his nose and legs, would carry him. Ontario's own Prime Minister, Howard Ferguson, who fitted over from Norway by ad libitum express "to give Joe a hand," as he expressed it, strongarmed his way through the crowd, to have his glasses jerked off his nose, his feet stopped on and his shoulder-blades vigorously pummeled in the press but to "gain a point of advantage, nevertheless, from which to enjoy a Canadian victory with the full ardor of that true Canadianism for which he is rather widely noted.

Wright Appeared Tired

The crowd was frantic. Wright appeared tired, while Lee, with tongue and limited brow, a wild light in his eyes, was still pressing. Wright swung over toward the centre of the course, in Lee's path, and half faltered it seemed. Shouts of encouragement came from the little Canadian encampment on shore, and from where Premier Ferguson and his down from London contingent were still struggling "for an eye". Somewhere near by a bull-like voice bellowed, "Hold it, Joe." They said afterwards it was Wright's "dad" behind the bow. None will know but, in any event, Joe held on a length to the good, never faltering again.

Over the finish line he went that way—the new champion of the world, his legs doctored up in pain, his tongue as thick as molasses, speechless, gasping—dead to the world, almost, and to the ovation dived upon his ears. Over in another shell Lee was in the same condition. Both men lay exhausted, unable to move for several minutes. Presently willing hands helped them ashore.

Wright entered his dressing tent, had a rubdown, with all of his admirers trying to get in a towel laid at once; took a good fanning, then ducked under a cold shower, to emerge a good five minutes later, fit as the proverbial fiddle, and ready for the Olympic.

TUNNEY PUNISHING SPARRING PARTNERS

Speculator, N. Y.—Gene Tunney impressed the experts with a fast box sparring drill against Harold May and Billy Vidabeck.

With the hot spell broken and a lively breeze making things comfortable around the champion's camp, Tunney subjected his sparring partners to a bit more punishment than is the usual rule in his training bouts. Tunney seemed to be drawing closer to his best form and should enter the ring at Paines Stadium, July 26, in his heavyweight title defense against Tom Heeney in superb condition. He weighed 192 pounds after his workout.

TWO NEW 2-10 TROTTERS

LEXINGTON, Ky.—Two new 2:10 trotters were added to the list when Ladywin, a daughter of Belwin, and General Delivery, a son of Lord Dewey, turned in respective sales of 2:08.24 and 2:10 at a record meeting here, Ladywin, owned by the Calumet Farm of Lexington, was driven by Frank Smith. R. B. Jewell, Wilmore, Ky., owner of General Delivery, was up behind his horse.

BLONDE LADY GREATLY IMPROVED THIS YEAR

DETROIT, Mich.—Blonde Lady owned by J. J. Mooney, of this city, in winning her race at Cleveland, against a field of aged trotters, proved that 2-year-old form does not always show what a colt will do at three. Last year this young male started twice and was outdistanced at both attempts. This season she appears to be a more than useful trotter, as her two winning heats in 2:08.14; 2:07.14; amply demonstrate. She is in the stable of Ben White and is exclusively engaged through the Grand Circuit.

FATEST COLT

LONDON, O.—Oscar Cow, locally-owned trotter, property of W. N. McMillen, who drives him, by his mile in 2:04.1, at the North Randall Grand Circuit race, became the fastest 4-year-old colt of the current season. His new record was made in the third set.

"COMBINE" ELIMINATES EXPENSIVE HARVESTING

Data collected by field experts of the United States Department of Agriculture indicate that the combined harvester-thresher is giving general satisfaction for wheat harvesting in the Great West region of the United States. These machines generally have cuts of 12, 15 or 16 feet and are equipped with an auxiliary engine to do the threshing and may be drawn by tractor or horses. They have become very popular in the West in recent years as they eliminate the expensive labor required for stocking and hauling which the old method of harvesting with a binder, and threshing later on, entailed. The harvester-thresher, or combine as it is usually called, cuts and threshes in one operation, delivering grain to travelling wagons at the side of the field. The number of acres cut per hour ranges from about one and a half for the eight-foot machine up to about four for the larger make. The U.S. investigators who studied conditions in Texas, Oklahoma, Kansas and the Northern tier of States, correspond almost exactly to our Prairie Provinces found that an average of 6.5 gallons of gasoline per acre was used in the auxiliary engines and 8 gallons for the tractor. Picked out on the Canadian prairie basis this would amount to about one gallon per acre for the whole outfit, or probably 35 cents. Depreciation is high, being figured at 44 cents per acre, and there is very little connection between the acres cut annually and the estimated life of the machine.

For small acreages the expense of harvesting with a combine was found to be greater than with either a binder or a header. Apparently about 50 acres was the minimum with the new machine, operating at its lowest cost at 300 acres or better. The average harvesting loss is much less than where the old methods are used, the combine being found to harvest within

WHEN BOYS GROW UP

By Edgar E. Guest
They named the baby after me,
Just sixteen years ago,
And now he's old enough to be
Some little dandy's bean,
And now the mail which bears my name.

And are not for me to claim
Exclusively my own.

"Is that you, Eddie?" questioned one Whose voice was sweet to hear,
"It's I," said I. She started on
To make a date, I fear.
"Just wait," I cried, "I think that you
Would not appear so glad
Or laugh noisy if you knew
This Eddie is the dad."

The Eddie calls come thick and fast
While his is yet to be.
A most confounding thing this is,

JAPAN FINDS CANADIAN WOOL VERY SATISFACTORY

EDMONTON, Alta.—Prospects for a profitable trade between Alberta and Japan in export wool are opened up by the receipt at the Department of Agriculture office of a letter from K. Miyahashi, Kobe, in which it is stated that the inspection of wool samples sent from Alberta on request some time ago has been completed and that the results are highly satisfactory. Mr. Miyahashi says the Japanese Government intends to import wool of the same quality from this province and that it is likely a number of orders will also be given this year by private firms. Further information is asked for as to how many hundred tons can be supplied.

succession, and provided a very beautiful day, and the 1500 people present had a most excellent day's sport.

One event that provided very special interest was the steer decorating contest for the Lethbridge Brewery cup, kindly presented by Mr. Sick, through the interest in the Strathmore stampede, of Mr. Arnold Ward.

The competition was restricted to the Bow Valley cowboys, and created very keen interest and surprise that so many local boys could provide such a splendid exhibition, and was finally won by Maynard, of Cluny, with the Popular Dick Cosgrove, formerly of Cheddar, second.

Miss Strope, of Consort, is visiting friends in town.

Don't forget the celebration of the 20th anniversary of the Nanaka Union Church. The date has been fixed for Sunday, August 1st, in the U.O.U. Hall. Arrangements are in progress for one of these good supports, followed by a splendid program.

Mrs. Boniste left Monday for a three weeks holiday at the coast.

Mrs. Gibson, accompanied by her sister from Moose Jaw, arrived Sunday and are the guests at the home of Gillen and McCombe.

Miss Mary Louise McCombe, pupil of Miss Scheer, has passed the Primary musical examinations held in Calgary in June.

Mr. Murray and family, of Three Hills, walked on Nanaka friends during the week.

Mr. Arden Grimshaw, from Shoutice, visited town last Sunday.

The C.G.I.T. girls returned from camp on Saturday. They reported a good time in spite of the rain which kept up for three days after their arrival at camp. Miss Williams, of Calgary, was camp leader, and had a group of sixty girls. Baseball and swimming were their greatest amusements, with nature study and dramatics, and music at intervals. They concluded with a play and marshall low ground and jangling around the camp fire.

ALBERTA WILL EQUIP HOMES WITH ELECTRICITY

CALGARY, Alta.—Modern farm homes are to be fully equipped and experimental tests carried on with a view to making a thorough investigation into the costs of electrifying the average farm home in Alberta, through the co-operation of the University of Alberta, the Calgary Power Co. and the C.F.W.A. It is planned to equip two representative farm homes in the province and operate electrical appliances for a period of one year to determine the actual costs involved. One will be in the north and the other in Southern Alberta.

POOL NOTICE

Whereas climatic and other conditions over which the farmer has no control, have prevented a number of Pool members from delivering their Wheat prior to the date set for cut-off, July 16th, 1928, the Board of Directors, by resolutions passed this 17th day of July, 1928, have authorized that any Street Wheat delivered at or any carload lots billed out of Country Houses on or before July 31st, 1928, be settled for on basis of the 1927-28 Pool prices. Members delivering Wheat between the dates July 16th and August 1st, will receive the initial payment on the 1928-29 initial payment schedule, but an adjustment will be made by the Pool Head Office which will bring payment up to the 1927-28 Pool average price.

ALBERTA WHEAT POOL

Local Jottings

Friends of Charles Clarke, of the High River Times, are congratulating him upon his winning first place in the weekly newspaper competition for the best paper published in Canada in towns of 1500 and under. Charles was very proud of the honor which he was the means of bringing to the promise of Alberta. A new building, a new plant, and a championship all in one year; surely the Lord is good to the Irish, and his many friends trust that he may long be spared to enjoy the new combination.

Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Davidson, of Calgary, were week end visitors with Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Moore. Mr. and Mrs. Davidson have returned from an extended trip in Europe, covering the last year.

Lord Rodney who farms a thousand acres of land in the Edmonton district has signed a Wheat Pool contract. The Duke of Sutherland's 7,000 acres at Brooks has been placed under a Second Series Contract.

Bishop Kidd, of Calgary, will hold confirmation services in Gleichen on Sunday, July 20th.

Last week it was reported that Mr. and Mrs. S. F. Garriot had been injured in an automobile accident at Colburn, Indiana. It was Mr. Garriot's father F. N. Garriot. Mr. and Mrs. S. F. Garriot have not been away from the Strathmore district, and their friends are pleased to hear that they were fortunate in missing this accident.

Miss Marie Richardson, of Edmonton to get busy and with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Sam Richardson.

The opportunity exists for Strathmore to secure one of the battery units that are being re-arranged for Military District No. 15. Most of the batteries have been located at Calgary, but the Department of Militia has almost decided that a much better service would be secured by having a unit established in a number of the centres in the province. This is a time for that old horse R. J. Kearns to get busy and organize a battery with headquarters at Strathmore. The 22nd Battery at Gleichen has been very successful recent times, and the boys of the 22nd are the hub in most of the sporting events of that town. A little effort at the opportunity moment will secure a unit for Strathmore.

Remember the Elks Picnic on Wednesday, July 25th, at the river, just east of crossing the bridge. The picnic is for all Elks and their families, and it is up to all Elks to go prepared with a good social time, and give others a good time. Sports and races for kiddies and adults and ice cream and supper served. Reserve this date and help to make it a real success.

Mrs. D. A. Perry has as her guests the Messrs. Florence and Gertrude May, of Bellevue, for some weeks.

It was quite generally admitted that the best looking fellow in Manager Hirtle's band that lead the stampede parade, was "Miss Aggie Barry".

Dr. and Mrs. Givins and daughter, Evangelina, and Dr. and Mrs. T. B. Harries and family, of Calgary, were visitors to the stampede Wednesday.

Mr. Knapp, of Calgary, was the guest of Mr. and Mrs. N. McDonald Wednesday.

Giffen is leaving this week for the coast, where he will spend a six weeks vacation, the first holiday in ten years, at Vancouver, Seattle, San Francisco and Los Angeles, visiting his son at the latter city. During his absence Dr. H. C. Furst will have charge of his practice. Dr. Giffen was specially pleased in having been able to secure the assistance of Dr. Furst, who has just completed a two year post graduate course at Edinburgh, Scotland. Dr. Furst will look after Dr. Giffen's patients until he returns.

The death of James Alder Hagood, age 36 occurred at Panoka Hospital on July 16th, 1928. The remains were forwarded to Chase & Co. at Strathmore. Funeral will take place on Thursday at 2 pm, July 19th, at St. Michael's and All Angels Church. Interment will take place in Strathmore Cemetery.

Everyone who ran across Geo. H. Jones during the past few days was impressed with the "smile" with which he greeted everyone; not that Geo. H. Jones is not usually in good humor, but this smile was a "special brand" and may readily be explained when it is known how the Strathmore bend of Holstein has been sweeping the prize lists at Calgary, Brandon and Edmonton. The Standard hopes the circuit has been completed.

I Saw Last Week

J. W. BISHOP, teacher Jim M. a new game of sneaking at Bobby Hamblin's EDDIE CRELLIN and MIKE MURPHY taking in the Johnny Jones Midway. Eddie thinks that the "fat lady" is a wonder. GENE GILGOUX having a long walk in Calgary. GRANT CLARK trying to distract Percy Parish in the fine points of baseball, but Percy was a hopeless case, insisting that he liked cricket much better. GEORGE QUINN looking up dates on the calendar, preparatory to informing Mayor Shrimpton that he will be away on July 20, and cannot attend any meetings on that date, and that he may decide to take a trip down east to Toronto, Montreal, and a number of eastern American cities in the early part of August. FRED J. DUNN explaining to Rev. T. B. Winter, just how it was that he missed attending Church so often. HERB ELLIS telling the girls what a fine time he had at the Calgary Stampede, and that he would be home the best. FRED J. DUNN surprising Lord Willington, when he stepped off the car with his bright little bridge, the Bow Scouts, looking to attention. Lord Willington was delighted to see such a bright little troupe in a town the size of Strathmore. MAYOR SHERIDMAN almost fainting. Chief Secretary, Treasurer T. M. Wears spoke disrespectfully of a discount of "only one per cent." FRED WHEAT explaining the difference in pulling the nudge rounds into a park like condition. JOINING THE WHEAT POOL IS GOOD BUSINESS

A Toronto Business Man, Owner of Alberta Farm Land, Says He Would Not Think of Staying Out of the Alberta Wheat Pool.

J. T. Todd, general manager of the J. T. Todd Lumber Company, Toronto, Ontario, is the owner of a large tract of land in the Crowfoot district in Alberta. He is a staunch member of the Alberta Wheat Pool. In fact, so interested is Mr. Todd in the Pool's development that he is endeavoring to persuade non-Pool neighbors to join the organization.

In a recent letter to a neighbor at Crowfoot, Mr. Todd says:

"Dear _____

"I have often wondered if you had joined the Wheat Pool. If you have not, I believe if you will consider this matter seriously you will find it is much to your interest to be a member of the Pool. As you know the Pool is only the farmer in business for himself, and the mere support of the Pool has the better it is going to do for all of us. It is simply a co-ordinated proposition so far as we are concerned and we, like everyone else in business, want to get as much for our labor and what we can. This is a day of cooperation and not only the farmers are doing this but the largest industries, such as automobile and steel, are doing the same. The people in the steel and automobile business are considered to be the brainiest in the world and they are following the lead which the farmers have pointed out to them during the last five years. Stores are also doing the same.

"I believe if you will consider this matter from your own best interest and the best interests of the community and farmers at large you will decide that YOU CANNOT AFFORD NOT TO BE A POOL MEMBER. I would not think of being out of the Pool myself and I have just purchased 320 more acres of land this spring. And I know, 320 acres of that is now broken and will be in crop next year. All of my land is in the Pool, and in fact, if I had ten times as much land as I have it could be handled in no other way than through the Pool.

"I would like to see you and all the other fellows in the Crowfoot district members of the Pool. If enough would come in we could have an elevator at Crowfoot and that is what we want in time. I believe that with the way the movement is growing we will eventually have it."

HOSPITAL PATIENT ESCAPES IN SHEETS

SEATTLE—Dressed only in a pillow and a bed sheet, Vera Fatnold, 17, escaped from Friends sanitarium, where she was held as a suspected syphilis carrier, only to be recaptured by the police at the Coan dock.

The girl's clothes had been taken away from her at the sanitarium. She cut holes in the pillow slip and crawled inside and then draped a sheet over herself as a cape in such a manner that she escaped detection until a policeman spotted her on the dock. She was held by the city health department Monday afternoon.

LETHBRIDGE CO-OPERATIVE WOOL INDUSTRY BEING ESTABLISHED

LETHBRIDGE, Alta.—Establishment of a co-operative woolen manufacturing industry in Lethbridge, employing 120 people, with a payroll of $150,000 a year, using 1,500,000 pounds of wool annually, and representing value approximately $200,000, is being considered by interested parties, and it carried to conclusion as early as hoped, the wheels of the factory would be turning by next October.

THE SAYINGS AND DOINGS OF MANY PUBLIC MEN

Julia W. Wolfe: "They who strive continually for love for excellence, not only to do the best work themselves, but to recognize and reward that which is done by others, illustrate the right law of co-operation and develop unconsciously an element of character, both in themselves and in others, which is in itself a noble kind of excellence."

J. R. Clynes: "Peace pacts with war preparations will be viewed by millions of people as a hollow boast, unless we accept a disarmament policy side by side with peace proclamations, multitudes of people will regard our proceedings as wholly insincere."

Sir Edward Parry: "There are many businesses of an old-fashioned go-as-you-please nature that have not yet learned the truth that big wages coincide with a high standard of work and that competition and the reward of merit foster keenness."

Lord Londonderry: "The more workmen realize that they are partners in industry, the more they will realize that prosperity is theirs for the asking."

Stanley Baldwin: "You will never get that perfect democracy at which we aim until the whole people plays its part."

John Galsworthy: "War is violent, it is distasteful, it is the negation of all harmony and all balance."

S. S. Baker: "The pulpit in many many instances tends to lift above the crowd mass thinking of the crowd, and not lowered compromise to the level of street discussion or drawing-room chatter."

BAINTREE U.F.W.A.

On June 27th, the ladies of the Baintree U.F.W.A. met at the home of Mrs. Charles County. Owing to stormy weather there had been only one meeting since May 10. This was held at the home of Mrs. L. Bease on June 6. It was well attended considering the weather, one of the worst of the season. Heavy downpours occurring on that day, June 27th being a beautiful day, the attendance was very large. There were also a number of visitors among whom were Mrs. Henry Godfrey, Mrs. Bertha Stangier, Mrs. W. O. Brown, Mrs. Cartwright, Mrs. Gaudin and Miss Richard. Following the usual business routine a mass of correspondence was read and discussed. The date of the annual picnic was changed from July to August.

The Bow River Federal Convention is to be held at Strathmore on the 24th and 25th of July, was discussed and delegates chosen to represent our local district. The ladies chosen for delegates are Mrs. W. A. Lyons and Mrs. Chas. County. Other matters of business made a very full and busy afternoon, and at five o'clock lunch was served and the ladies dispersed to meet again with Mrs. Colbert on July 18th.

On the evening of July 4th, the ladies held an ice cream social at the Henry Godfrey home, Baintree. Because of recent storms which had made motor travel dangerous, and because of the fear of further storms, a large attendance was not expected. The attendance was fairly large however, and nearly forty dollars realized. The Baintree Local hopes to put on a series of these socials through the summer months.

"I want to be excused," said the worried looking jurymen, addressing the judge. "I owe a man a dollar I borrowed, and as he is leaving town today for some years I want to catch him before he gets on the train and pay him the money."

"You are excused," returned the judge in icy tones, "I don't want anybody on the jury who can lie like that."

A lawyer named Strange was about to die. He called his wife and told her that all he wanted on his tombstone was "Here lies an honest lawyer."

Diner (leaving railway dining car) "The prices are so high—they will suffer for this."

Friend (pulling two silver spoons from pocket) "They have already."

A little boy who had lived in London all his life was invited by a distant relative to spend a week end in the country.

All his friends complimented him on his luck, but the boy himself was not at all happy at the thought, and he refused.

Coaxing, argument, pleading and promises of untold wonders, left him cold. "No country for me," was his ultimatum.

"But why not?" asked his father.

"Because," replied the son, "they've got threshing machines down there, and it's quite bad enough here, where it's done by hand."

TRANSLATION MADE OF JEWISH TALMUD

Rabbi Jerome Widsky, of Boston, has the distinction to have made the first complete translation of the Talmud, which is the body of the Jewish civil and canonical law, into the English language. Rabbi Widsky, who is in charge of Beth Aaron Temple, Boston, spent 14 years of arduous work in the translation of the Talmud. The 22 volumes are now in the hands of the printers. His work is said to be the first ever to be published to contain the English translation, together with the original and all the commentaries.

"The undertaking was an ideal," said Rabbi Widsky. The undertaking is not to make money. My ambition was to give the world full knowledge of the Jew, his aims and ambitions. I wanted to do something that would take away the hard feeling between the Jew and the non-Jew.

HEARD ON THE STREET

Salesman: "Let me sell you some nightshirts."

Customer: "No, never go out at night."

"Robert," said the teacher, to drive home the lesson, which was on charity and kindness, "I saw a man beating a donkey and stopped him from doing so, what virtue would it be showing?"

"Brotherly love," said Bobby promptly.

Gladys: "Are you going to get a divorce, dearie?"

Myra: "I don't see how we can this year. We haven't got our engagement ring paid for yet."

"My mother and father celebrated their 25th wedding anniversary the other day. They killed a pig in honor of the occasion."

"Why kill an innocent pig for what happened 25 years ago?"

A colored agent was summoned before the insurance commissioner.

"Don't you know," said the commissioner, "that you can't sell life insurance without a state license?"

"Boss," said the dandy, "you should have said a month. I don't know I couldn't sell it, but I didn't know the reason."

Holiday-maker (leaving crowded seaside boarding house): "I admit I don't object to sleeping in the breakfast room, but, really, I think you're going a little too far when you charge me extra for breakfast in my bedroom!"

Son: "I say, Mother, you remember you said the dentist was painless?"

Mother: "Well!"

Son: "He isn't. When I hit his finger he yelled like mad."

Black: "What do they mean by the 'witching hour'?"

White: "Don't you know? That's the hour when the wife greets you with, 'which story is it this time?'"

Two small boys were puzzling their brains to invent a new game. At last one of them said, eagerly: "I know, Billy, let's see who can make the ugliest face."

"Aw, go on!" was the reply. "Look what a start you've got."

Men are valuable just in proportion as they are able and willing to work in harmony with other men. When a person loses his ability to co-operate with others, he has joined the Down-out Club.

Little Jona was at the photographer's, but it was very difficult to make her sit still. Her mother and the photographer tried persuasion of every kind, but the child persisted in her restlessness. At last the photographer said to the mother:

"Madam, if you will leave your little girl alone with me for a moment I feel sure I can photograph her quite easily."

The lady withdrew. Five minutes later the photographer called her back and said everything had gone splendidly.

"What did that kind gentleman say to you when I was gone?" the lady asked her little daughter on the way home.

"He said: 'If you don't sit still, you little monkey, I will shake the very life out of you.' So I sat still, Mum."

An American was prowling around a Scottish churchyard. His eyes caught an epitaph, "Lord, she was thin."

"Say sexton, what d'ye think of that?" he asked.

"That's all right, sir; the sculptor went over near the edge of the stone and didn't leave room for the 'e'."

Mrs. Lafferty: "Ten stitches did the doctor have to take in me old man after the fight last night."

Mrs. O'Hara: "That? Was that all? Shure, when the doctor seen me poor husband carried in this morning he says: 'Has any man got a sewing machine?'"

The following sign appears in a church: "Not everyone who enters this church is converted. Watch your handbag."

Vincent was told to write an essay on the mule, and turned in to his teacher the following effort:

"The mule is a harder bird than a goose or a turkey. It has two legs to walk with, two more to kick with, and wears its wings on the side of its head. It is stubbornly backward about cawing forward."

Percy Parish: "Aren't we having unusual weather for this time of the year?"

Bill Wilkinson: "Yes, we usually have."

"Isn't Gene Giroux fast?"

"I'll say so! Gene is so fast he can put out the light, jump in bed and get there before the bed gets dark."

Wife: "How about that five dollars you were short on my allowance last week?"

Husband: "Now, there you go again! Women are always trying to start an argument."

Laundress: "I couldn't come yesterday, Miss Blank, I had such a pain."

Mistress: "What was it, dyspepsia?"

Laundress: "Well, ma'am, it was something I eat; the doctor called it acute indiscretion."

A loud and objectionable bore had been talking for hours about himself and his achievements.

"I'm a self-made man, that's what I am—a self-made man," he said.

"You knocked off work too soon," came a quiet voice from the corner.

"I have no faith in women."

"Why not?"

"Well, recently I put an advertisement in the matrimonial paper, and my fiancée answered it."

It is a very good thing that the leaders of Canada's two great political parties should be going to the people of Canada with their messages. We have too much political activity at election times and too little at other times. The one gives us indignation; the other tends to make us amiable. The only way to change the existing of intelligent voters on Election Day is by presenting intelligent politics all the year round, or the years around might be the best way to put it. In the heat of an election people who are partisans, which most of us are, will not listen to reason and do as they please. To do so might lead us to change our minds and none of us wish to change our minds when an election is close upon us. The changing of minds has to be done before an election is announced; to enhance political intelligence or mould the opinions of a people the country must be known knee deep with persuasive literature, meetings must be held constantly and all parts of the country reached, while the press must preach high ideals of life and citizenship. This work must be done all the time, not only at election time.

It really matters little what political party gains an electoral victory at the polls when the victory is one based on an appeal to intelligence, reason, and true patriotism. The mistake we have made in much of our political fighting in Canada has been to indulge in mudslinging and to institute abuse for argument. That pleases the bigoted partisans at election time, but it not only cut no ice with the intelligent voter; it freezes up his interest in politics. That is why the speaking tour of our two political leaders will do good. The Liberal citizen will accompany his Conservative neighbour to hear Mr. Bennett and the Conservative will accompany his Liberal friend to listen to Mr. King. Afterwards they will discuss the problems of the hour calmly and intelligently and remain the best of friends. Which is as it should be and is the very best thing for Canada; which is good politics.

TWO VOYAGES BEING PUSHED IN NORTHLAND

OTTAWA—The sailing of two expeditions into the Arctic to prospect for minerals is considered in Ottawa to be the advance ward of considerable mineral development in the far North.

Last season a Toronto man, McAlpine, saw the possibilities and asked exclusive prospecting rights over a huge area West of the Hudson Bay. This area was five thousand miles in extent and Mr. McAlpine in his application bit off a little too much. He wanted exclusive rights for three years and planned to use aeroplane in his prospecting. Immediately it became known however, a storm of protest arose and Hon. Chas. Bennett was the recipient of a sheaf of objections by wire and by mail. He thereupon refused these applications.

Major Burwash, the Arctic explorer who recently left for King William Island and who has explored much of the Northern area, told the press he felt that some day there would be huge mineral developments in the area. He foresaw the huge mineral assets of the Arctic, being short of their minerals which would come down to Hudson Bay and out either by sea, by boat or by rail from Fort Churchill.

A few days ago an eminent railway authority told the press that within a few years the Hudson Bay Railway would be used to bring out the ore from the north, that it would not be many years before miners would be established near the great waterways on the Nelson and Churchill rivers. When the Flin Flon started, first development, the ore had to be taken by rail to Trail, B.C., and yet was valuable. They make huge profits, and still profitable over expenses. The owners of the Flin Flon have acquired a site at Island Falls and will build a smelter. Further north however there is a huge untapped mineral field with water power which make Island Falls look like a trickle through a leaky log gate.

If the two expeditions which recently left St. John make any real discovery there, will be a rush into the

The Duty of Will Making

North, because the completion of the Hudson Bay Railway will make it possible to get by rail there, not far from the mines.

It is also pointed out that the tractor grain system now established in the north for winter travel will create a new condition in the possibility of bringing the miners closer.

GROWING TOMATOES COMMERCIAL AT MEDICINE HAT

Medicine Hat, Alta.—The California Canners Limited subsidiary of the Broder Canning of New Westminster, B.C., have bought the plant formerly belonging to the Preston Planting Mills here. The California Canners Limited are experimenting with the growing of tomatoes on a commercial scale to ascertain whether it is feasible to establish a canning industry in this district and if their hopes are realized a large factory will be established. Two tracts of land, nearly one hundred acres have been acquired near the river, eighty acres of which will be planted to tomatoes and the remainder devoted to corn and peas. O. A. Colwell, local manager of the company states that if the present venture is successful an extension into the growing and canning of other field products will be made next year.

EVERY TWO MINUTES OF EVERY BUSINESS DAY... SOMEONE IN CANADA BUYS A NEW GENERAL MOTORS CAR

SINCE the days of Confederation, General Motors of Canada Limited has been supplying Canada with transportation. Each year as requirements have multiplied, the scope of General Motors service has widened... the quality of General Motors cars has steadily improved. Each year more Canadians have looked to General Motors for better automobiles, until now, every two minutes of every business day, someone in Canada buys a new General Motors car. These cars are bought by people who know... by people like yourself... for the very reason which would guide you in the choice of a car.

They are bought because they are the product of the most progressive organization in the world's most progressive industry... because they reflect the General Motors policy of constant advancement... because they are better cars...

They represent the latest developments of the world's leading automotive research laboratory, offering these developments to the public as soon as they become available. They are proved in advance, at the expense of General Motors, not that they are better cars because they are Canadian cars. And they embody greater value because of General Motors money-saving methods of quality buying and volume production. This popularity of General Motors cars holds more than a passing interest for the Canadian car buyer... for General Motors utilizes increased demand to reduce production costs and to offer still more outstanding automobile values.

The Conservative leader, Hon. R. B. Bennett, has been holding a series of meetings in the province of Quebec and has been hailed everywhere with the possibility of large support. Shortly, the Prime Minister, Mr. Hon. W. L. Mackenzie King, will take the stump in the West where he is expected to receive the acclaim of great bodies of people. Neither of these political leaders should, however, mistake the natural curiosity and warmheartedness of the Canadian people for a full and complete endorsement of their respective political views. A former political leader in Quebec was greeted with hosannas at St. Laurent but crucified at Lachine on Election Day. Meetings may mean much; mostly they mean little.

SARINIA—Mr. and Mrs. Alex

Sarabia left on Friday, July 13, for Montreal to sail for Scotland for a two month visit in their native land. Mr. Forbes has no fear of the 13. He leaves Sarabia July 13; Friday, say, Mr. Forbes has been in this country just 29 years, three periods of 13 years each. Despite the ever-
